Accessibility at Anaplan

Anaplan helps you equip teams to overcome obstacles and seize opportunities ahead of competitors. We also want you to overcome barriers and make the most of our products. That's why we're committed to inclusion.

What is WCAG 2.0?

The Web Content Accessibility Guidelines (WCAG) defines how we, as software providers, can make web-based content more accessible to people with disabilities. Accessibility involves a wide range of disabilities, including visual, auditory, physical, speech, cognitive, language, learning, and neurological disabilities. Although these guidelines cover a wide range of issues, they are not able to address the needs of people with all types, degrees, and combinations of disability. These guidelines also make Web content more usable by older individuals with changing abilities due to aging, and often improve usability for users in general.

This document assesses the Anaplan products against v2.0 of the Web Content Accessibility Guidelines (WCAG), the most recent, published version of the guidelines, and those most appropriate for a rich, web-based application.

Within the guidelines, criteria will be defined as A, AA, or AAA – criteria defined as AAA are the strictest criteria. This document assesses the Anaplan products against the AA criteria.

For more information on WCAG 2.0 please visit https://www.w3.org/TR/WCAG20/

As we continue this journey, Anaplan will:

-   Work towards meeting level AA of the WCAG 2.0 (and WCAG 2.1) guidelines
-   Provide guidance in configuring our products to make them as accessible as possible
-   Support customers who may need adjustments, or who use assistive technology

Raising accessibility issues

If you encounter an accessibility issue with one of our products, or have further questions, please let us know by emailing accessibility@anaplan.com.

Assistive technology

We test our software using a variety of screen readers and browsers. We've found the following combinations to provide the most accessible experience when using our products:

-   If you're using Windows, we recommend using NVDA with Firefox
-   If you're using OSX, we recommend using VoiceOver with Safari

Product VPAT document

These VPAT documents describe how our products address the WCAG 2.0 AA, which complies with Section 508 of the U.S. Rehabilitation Act.

Professional accessibility testing resources of EPAM, performed an accessibility audit of the https://sturnis-demo.fluence.app website.

Evaluation methods used

Seven pages of the sturnis-demo website were tested. The Home page, Maintenance, Reporting, System maintenance, Manage roles, Manage email template, and Archived documents were checked for accessibility.

The pages were tested in Google Chrome 121.0 with the A web-powered screen reader Version 53.0.2784.14 on the Windows 10 operating system. Accessibility testers performed the audit using automated tools, keyboard-only interaction, and screen readers.

Accessibility testers performed the test through code inspection and color contrast checkers, keeping WCAG 2.0 guidelines at Level AA in mind.
